I understand that the American Sexual Health Association (ASHA), parent organization of the National Cervical Cancer Coalition (NCCC), is preparing, writing, and will publish a work on the subject of cervical cancer and HPV disease, hereafter referred to as the Work.

I have submitted an essay relating my personal experiences, remarks, and recollections to be used in connection with the Work. The Work will be published in electronic/digital editions. It may later be published in other editions, including print editions. In addition, portions may appear in published reviews or in advertising materials.

I hereby grant and assign to the American Sexual Health Association and its successors the following rights in connection with my submission for use as part of the Work or any advertising, packaging, or promotional materials for the Work, in any and all editions, versions, and media, in perpetuity and throughout the world.

1. The right to edit all or any portion of the submission, and to generally use and publish the submission, including my experiences, recollections, incidents, remarks, dialogue, actions, and information, as well as any photographs and documents that I may submit.
2. The right to use my name, image, and biographical data.
3. The right to develop, produce, distribute, advertise, promote, or otherwise exploit the Work as a book or any other Work in any manner that the American Sexual Health Association deems appropriate. I understand and acknowledge that the American Sexual Health Association will be the sole owner of all copyright and other rights in and to the Work.

In order to enable the American Sexual Health Association to develop the Work in any manner that the organization may deem best, I hereby release and discharge the Author and his/her licensees, successors, and assigns, from any and all claims, demands, or causes of action that I may have against them by reason of anything contained in the Work, or any of the above uses, including any claims based on the right of privacy, the right of publicity, copyright, libel, defamation, or any other right.

In consideration of the foregoing, the American Sexual Health Association has agreed to provide me with one free copy of the Work in its first edition upon publication. I acknowledge and agree that I am not entitled to receive any other form of payment from the American Sexual Health Association and/or its successors.
