

About the National Cervical Cancer Coalition (NCCC)

NCCC was founded in 1996 as a grassroots nonprofit organization dedicated to serving women with, or at risk for, cervical cancer and HPV disease. The organization has thousands of members around the world, and chapters across the U.S.

In 2011, NCCC became a part of the American Sexual Health Association (ASHA), a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization focused on sexual health and sexually transmitted diseases. NCCC, along with ASHA's HPV and Cervical Cancer Prevention Resource center, offer a robust, comprehensive slate of education, advocacy, and support services across the continuum of human papillomavirus (HPV) infections and related diseases.

NCCC Mission

To help women, family members and caregivers battle the personal issues related to cervical cancer and HPV and to advocate for cervical health in all women by promoting prevention through education about early vaccination, Pap testing regularly and HPV testing when recommended.

NCCC Programs and Services

- A support network for cervical cancer patients and their families when faced with the difficulties of a cervical cancer diagnosis and persistent HPV disease.
- Development of multi-language educational materials focused on reaching underserved and uninsured women to improve access.
- A clearinghouse to provide cervical cancer information to organizations and the public with the latest information on cervical cancer disease.
